Frank's Stratagem.

I was on the point of screaming for Frank, Uncle Henry, Miss Melbourne and the whole household, as visions of murder, abduction, etc., flitted through my brain, when Frank's old musical laugh rang out, and he exclaimed;

"How do you like a kiss without a moustache?"

"Mercy" I exclaimed, "are you really Frank Thornton? Such a homely man, my dear Frank? O dear! how you look without a moustache—and I've invited my cousin Madeline from New York on a visit—and she will see you—and I've told how much you look like Louis Napoleon! O dear? what made you do it?"

"I only cut off half," he smilingly answered—it was a real sweet smile he had, I never had seen the whole of it before—"this side," and he pointed to the left side of his upper lip. "You cut the other yourself. Do you suppose I was going about one-sided?"

"Now I get used to it," and I stopped to take a criticizing view, "I don't mind it so much—but grow it as soon as possible; for it was your moustache I fell in love with."

He knew I liked it, and cut it off to plague me I know; for I shall always declare I only clipped the ends—and why didn't he trim the other side to match?

"Never mind you now, I've got something to tell you," I said, as I sat down on the grass.

Frank sat down opposite, and commenced to rock to and fro, putting out his tongue, exclaiming "and-er and-er," in imitation of the way young ladies tell a confidential story to each other.

"Well," I said, "you tell the story."

"Dear Kate, I am all attention," and he leaned back nonchalantly and stroked his upper lip!

"Bless me, Kate, I wish I had a moustache; I don't know what to do with my hands."

"Well," I began, "Miss Melbourne is not Miss Melbourne."

"Who in the deuce is she then? Mrs. Henry Wayland?" and Frank started up in alarm.

"No, nor never will be, I answered, and Frank fell back on his elbow. "She is an old woman of sixty! and she paints—"

"I always knew that," he interrupted. "I asked her to smell the new, delicious perfume on my handkerchief, and pressed it against her cheek, to see what was what."

"No wonder she hates you, you saucy fellow;" and, I resumed, "she wears false teeth—upper and lower set—and—"

"I knew that, too," he again interrupted. "The uppers fell down the other day, at the table, and clicked on her tea-cup, while drinking."

"And," I again commenced, "she wears false hair—"

"I knew that, too," he exclaimed.—"That sort of bandelette she wears got moved a little, and I saw a little patch of shaved head there;" and he pointed to that portion of his forehead where the parting commenced.

"And," I said, losing my patience, for a woman always gets vexed, when she finds she cannot astonish in such an instance, "she wears two things in her mouth!" And I paused to witness the effect of such an announcement.

"Plumpers, by Jove!" and Frank rolled over on the grass and roared.

"Well," I exclaimed thoroughly vexed, "if you know so much about Miss Melbourne, you tell the rest."

"Dear Kate, go on. False hair, teeth, paint and whitewash I knew she had—but the plumpers," and he indulged in another roar, until I warned him not to burst off every one of those brass buttons.

"But," said he sobering, "of the plumpers and anything further, I was entirely ignorant."

"Well," I said rising, "I shall not tell you the rest."

And I just walked off into the house, and Frank came rather crest-fallen, after me.

Breakfast was ready, and Uncle Wayland already escorting Miss Melbourne to the breakfast-room. A crisp good morning was all he deigned to Frank and me.

Miss Melbourne could afford to smile a little, as uncle was gradually being won over to her side; so she looked over her shoulder as she passed through the door, and said:

"A beautiful morning, Mr. Thornton."

"But not more lovely than yourself, Miss Melbourne," he answered, gallantly bowing low to keep from laughing; for I pinched his elbow and asked him if he knew how much the plumpers were a set.

A compliment told on Miss Melbourne. It almost counter-balanced the poodle, buns etc., and when he invited her and uncle to join us in a sail that afternoon, she expressed herself as "very happy."

During breakfast I could not keep my eyes off from her, wondering how she engineered all those things. Bless me! how could I eat toast, talk and laugh, all at the same time, with thirty-two bought teeth and those things all to be kept straight? I should sit still and decline food on the plea of sickness and try the power of suction to its uttermost. She began to look like a woman of genius to me.

As we rose from the table, I saw, by various signs, such as pointing his thumb over his shoulder, jerking his head in a certain direction that Frank wanted me to step out into the garden again, instead of joining Miss Melbourne, as I usually did, for an hour or two each morning.

"Now," said Frank, as we stooped down ostensibly to examine a certain flower within the border, for Uncle Henry and Miss Melbourne came out immediately behind us, the morning was so tempting, "I've got a splendid plan, and we'll work it to a charm."

Then he hurriedly told me it, and the part I was to perform, and I clapped my hands exclaiming,

"Good! good!"

"What is it pleases you so, Miss Kate?" simpered Miss Melbourne, as she swept by on uncle's arm.

"O, nothing," I answered, "only Frank says you look younger and prettier than I do; and I know I am twenty-two years your junior."

Frank, sotto voice, "if not Fifty."

Miss Melbourne smiled sweetly on Frank, but uncle frowned. He knew Frank thought anything but that, and did not relish the "goak."

But the plan I let it unfold itself.

We had dined; and I was in my chamber attiring for a sail.

Usually, I should have worn my pretty laced boots, and made Frank carry me over the wet places; but now I put on my rubber ones. Usually, I should have worn my new gipsey hat with its vine of green

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

SATURDAY, June 22, 1872.

Senator Brownlow of Tennessee is bound to disappoint those politicians waiting for his shoes. He is now in better health than for six years past. The "vital spark" doesn't "flicker" at all, we are told by a local paper, but gives a steady light which promises to burn after Democracy is dead and forgotten.

The Republicans of Boston, hold a grand ratification meeting in the old Cradle of liberty, Faneuil Hall, this evening. Gen. Woodford of New York, Gov. Geary of Pennsylvania, Gen. Butler and others, will assist in adding enthusiasm to the occasion.

A despatch from Geneva says that the representatives of Great Britain before the Alabama Claims Arbitration Tribunal have gone to Chamoulx, where they will stay until today. The Americans have not left for Paris, as they intended doing, but remain in the city. It is believed that the reason for this change in the programme for the movements of the representatives is, that a supplementary article to the treaty, upon a totally new basis from the one submitted by Lord Granville, is now the subject of negotiations between the English and American governments. The chances for a satisfactory issue from the difficulties which now surround the arbitration, are believed to be increasing.

Still Another.

If any one else has a candidate for the White House he will do well to bring him on. We do not know as there is any limit to the number admissible; from appearances we should rather think not, but then it would be well to have them all in in season. The great army of sorcheads, that is all whose political aspirations have been blasted, met in convention at Cincinnati, and nominated Horace Greeley. This action created another party of sore-heads who determined to bolt the Cincinnati ticket, and accordingly a Fifth Avenue conference was called. This conference lacked courage to do anything and adjourned. Accordingly the more belligerent portion were enraged, and another bolt followed. This last fraction of a party, now dwindled down to ex-Governor Cox, Wm. C. Bryant, Park Godwin, Edward Atkinson, Col. Grosvenor, F. T. Gault, and a few others, met at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, with closed doors, determined upon manufacturing a candidate for the Presidency that should whip Grant and Greeley combined. But even in this small party discord had a voice. Governor Cox dissatisfied with the proceedings publicly withdrew. After which, as far as we know, harmony prevailed. A discussion of three hours followed, when the ticket was put forward, consisting of Wm. S. Groesbuck, of Ohio, and Frederick Law Olmstead, of New York. A long set of resolutions followed, and the convention adjourned.

The Fifth Avenue Conference.

The men assembled in Convention at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, disbanded in disgust yesterday morning and went home leaving the future as unsettled as it was before the gathering. In short the Conference which was called in a timid manner weeks later than it should have been was found so packed with Greeley men that his opponents found no chance for themselves to work, and consequently wisely concluded that their best and safest line of march lay in the direction of home. There is now no hope for the few honest men who style themselves "liberal" republicans but to come back into the old party ranks. No man will be able to take the place of Greeley and if the democrats nominate him at Baltimore, he must run as the leading and probably only opponent of Grant. Hence the only alternative is Grant or Greeley, republican or democrat. Such men as Trumbull, Bryant, Schurz and others who originated the Cincinnati movement, are learning to their cost the dilemma they have brought upon themselves. They have labored so long and earnestly against Grant that they cannot with consistency come back to his support, and Greeley with the democratic party to back him, they will not follow. Had they possessed the requisite amount of courage for the great enterprise they would have repudiated that trade game that defeated them at Cincinnati, at the time, and presented a man in opposition to Greeley more worthy the suffrages of the people. But that time is too late now, and as a natural consequence their delay has added corresponding strength to the republican ranks. Already the Nation, the ablest of all of Grant's former opponents, choosing what it considers the least of the two evils, has given in its adhesion to the old party and will assist in the re election of our present chief magistrate. The New York Post, Bryant's paper, bids fair to do the same. Trumbull and Schurz are as yet on the fence, but we have every reason to believe that Trumbull will show his innate good sense and cast in his lot with the winning party. Schurz will hardly give the man he has unintentionally helped elevate to a presidential nomination, a very cordial support, and Sumner will probably remain neutral. Consequently of the great leaders of the so called "liberal" movement, Mr. Greeley will get not one.

Aid for Ship Builders.

The Treasury Department has issued a circular giving regulations for the free import of ship building materials. It provides that all timber, lumber, hemp, manilas, and iron and steel rods, bars, spikes, nails and bolts, copper and composition metal, which may be necessary for the construction and equipment of vessels built in the United States for the purpose of being employed in the foreign trade, including the trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States, and finished after the passage of this act, may be imported in bond, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe; and upon proof that such materials have been used for the purpose aforesaid no duties shall be paid thereon; provided, that vessels receiving the benefit of the section shall not be allowed to engage in the coastwise trade of the United States more than two months in any one year, except upon the payment to the United States of the duties on which a rebate is herein allowed; provided further, that all articles of foreign production needed for the repair of American vessels engaged exclusively in the foreign trade may be withdrawn from bonded warehouses free of duty, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe.

How Germany Uses the War Indemnity.

The grand total of the money which France is to pay to her conqueror foots up somewhat in excess of 1,441,487,061 thalers (about $1,000,000,000). Of this sum, however, France receives back 20,000,000 thalers for the railways of Alsace and Lorraine. The German government, very wisely for its own purposes, has used this vast sum of money first in aiding and restoring the provinces recently annexed, giving 30,700,000 thalers to persons and corporations whose private property was destroyed, and spending 11,400 thalers in replenishing the rolling stock on the railway lines, for strategical purposes. Large sums have been paid to the families of the landwehr, 4,000,000 thalers have been distributed among the successful generals, and ten times that sum has been set apart as a reserve fund for the next war. These sums having been expended in repairing the losses by the late conflict, and other huge appropriations having been made for the building of fortresses and preparing for future exigences, something is left to be divided among the several States. Even in this distribution warlike considerations are kept in view, and three-fourths of the whole amount is to be divided in proportion to the number of men furnished by each State.

The Hassler Expedition.

The Hassler deep sea exploring expedition, with Prof. Agassiz and his friends, was at Valparaiso in Chili, early in May. Some of the party visited Juan Fernandez a few days previously. This island was discovered in 1563, and a few goats were landed. In 1631 an Indian was left there, and subsisted on the goats three years before he was taken off. In October, 1704, a Scotch sailor, Alexander Selkirk, was left there, and taken off in February, 1709, having lived four years and four months in absolute solitude, living, like his Indian predecessor mostly on goats' flesh. He told his story to Defoe, and out of it grew "Robinson Crusoe." The island is about ten or twelve miles long, by four in breadth; the shores mostly precipitous, and the mountain ridges 3,000 feet in height. There are now twelve persons, including several children, living on the island. They have good poultry and vegetables, splendid beef and milk, and can get goats by climbing after them. Other things they purchase with the proceeds of their beef, milk, and poultry, for which they find a market in passing ships, especially in American whalers.

The new Post-Office Law, for transient newspapers, postal cards, etc., it is announced, will not go into operation until July 10. "Uncle Sam's mail" is to be a regular express wagon. The third class includes all pamphlets, occasional publications, transient newspapers, magazines, handbills, posters, unsealed circulars, prospectuses, books, book manuscripts, proof sheets, corrected proof sheets, maps, prints, engravings, blanks, flexible patterns, samples of merchandise not exceeding twelve ounces in weight, sample cards, phonographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes and wrappers, cards, plain and ornamental paper, photographic representations of different types, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions, and all other matter which may be declared mailable by law, and all other articles not above the weight prescribed by law, which are not, from their form or nature, liable to destroy, deface, or otherwise injure the contents of the mail bag, or the person of any one engaged in the postal service. All liquid, poisons, glass, explosive materials, and obscene books shall be excluded from the mails. Samples of metals, ores and mineralogical specimens shall not exceed twelve ounces in weight, and shall be subject to examination and to rates of postage as hereinafter provided.

No package weighing more than four pounds shall be conveyed by mail, except books published or circulated by order of Congress. Newspapers less frequently than once a week are one cent each for four ounces.

Packages of clothing for persons in the army or navy may be sent at one cent an ounce. The present rate is two cents an ounce.

The first class is mail matter, embracing all correspondence, wholly or partly in writing, except book manuscript and corrected proof sheets passing between authors and publishers. The second class is all matter exclusively in print, and regularly issued at stated periods from a known office of publication, without addition by writing mark or sign.

ABOUT HOME.

—It is reported that Newport is to have a signal service station.

—Island strawberries are coming in quite plentifully, and the supply bids fair to be large.

—The beautiful growing weather of the past two weeks has had a very pleasing effect upon our farming population.

—A special meeting of the Island Cemetery Company will be held at the State House Friday evening, June 28th.

—It is not safe to depend upon the large clock at the depot when going to the trains. Remembrance of this caution may be of incalculable value to travelers.

—The new steamer of the American Steamboat Company will go on the line one week from Monday. Captain Samuel Allen will probably have the command of her.

—It is announced now that the grand chorus at the great Jubilee will remain through another week, so that those of our citizens who have not yet attended can listen to an equally good entertainment next week.

—A grand banquet was given to Lord Lisgar, the retiring Governor General of Canada, in Montreal, Thursday evening, and was attended by persons of distinction from all parts of the Dominion. Among the guests was the Hon. Wm. Beach Lawrence of this city.

STILL ANOTHER.—Mr. Geo. H. Norman has been awarded the contract for constructing the waterworks at Woburn Mass.

GIVE NOTICE, GENTLEMEN.—Persons going to the New York boats with friends about to depart should be very cautious how they remain on board. There is no notice given of the starting of the boats, and the first intimation the victim has is the noise of the moving engine. It certainly cannot be too much to ask of the officers of the boat that they give some notice when the plank is to be taken in.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Divine services will be held in Zion Church tomorrow at 10 1-2 A. M., and 4 P. M. Sunday School in the morning at 9 1-2 A. M.

Rev. Edwin F. Jones will preach in Touro Park, at 6 P. M.

Trinity Church Sunday School at 9.30 A. M. Morning Prayer at 10.45. Evening Prayer at 5. Morning Prayer on all Fridays at 11 o'clock in Kay chapel, on Church street.

Thames Street M. E. Church, Rev. Edwin F. Jones, Pastor. Sabbath school at 10 1-2 A. M. Preaching 3 P. M. Evening 7.45, subject "Advice to Young Men."

Rev. S. C. Hill, of Emmanuel Church, will preach at Fort Adams tomorrow afternoon. Service at commence at 1-2 past 1 o'clock.—Friends wishing to attend will be at Bannister's Wharf to meet the Fort boat at 1 o'clock.

MORE LIGHT.—Is there any particular reason why our street lamps should be put out at midnight, except the saving of a small gas bill? From twelve o'clock to two when the city is in total darkness, is the time when mischief is done if ever, and the street lamps burning, would to our mind, prove a valuable assistant to our night police and perhaps be the means of warding off some great crime. But the great need of light, at this season of the year, is for the benefit of passengers coming by the New York boats. As long as these boats persist in calling here at the unseasonable hour of two o'clock, so long must travellers be compelled to find their way up town in the darkness, unless we consent to give them the feeble aid of a street lamp. It is no easy matter for one acquainted with the region to find his way from the steamboat landing to one of our hotels, and it must require a brave man, indeed, who will brave the dangers of Long Wharf, at that time of night, if not fully acquainted with the region. Hence, during the summer season at least, those lamps should be kept burning till daylight.

A Word to Young Men and Boys.

The young man of common understanding can easily see that there are about three kinds of language in use along the highways and by-ways of life.

One is the lowest of slang; the next is the low, vulgar, indecent way of speaking of all the common affairs of life, the boy of a low moral turn always using the most indecent language that he can choose, and really thinks it is a feather in his cap to employ such dirty expressions instead of decent ones. The third kind of language is the intractive decent language that is spoken by high minded persons of all classes. The young man, or boy, no matter how poor he may be in this world's goods, shows the nobility of mind by using decent language. His actions will always correspond with his words. The degree of refinement in language is governed generally by education, but it is not always that the best educated use the best language. Too many do not blush to use the most indecent, who were educated for better influences. Young men and boys, aim to be Gentlemen. It does not require riches to make a gentleman. It is justly said that the foul mouth bird befouls its own nest. What better evidence is needed than a visit to the usual bathing resorts of the young men and boys of this city.

Portsmouth.

The strawberry harvest has but commenced on the island, considerably later than usual. Mr. J. E. Macomber sent to market on Thursday, the 30th inst., 1,200 quarts of strawberries, the first he has sent this season.

The Church and Society of the Methodist Church propose to give a Strawberry Festival on Tuesday evening, the 25th instant.

One day last week as Capt. Samuel Sisson was attempting to put a shingle on the roof of his barn, he fell from the ladder and injured himself quite severely, but we believe no bones were broken. He is nearly eighty years of age.

Most of the fishing companies have gone to the coast of Maine as usual, for the summer menhaden fishing. Horse-mackerel are unusually plenty in our waters at present.

The next meeting of the Teachers Association is to be held at the house of Philip B. Chase, Esq., on Tuesday evening, the 25th inst.

Narragansett Heights.

The Town Council of South Kingstown met at the Maxson House, Narragansett Pier, Monday, at 1 o'clock P. M., accompanied by the agent and attorney of the horse railroad, and proceeded to pass over the highways and streets in the route of said proposed railroad, and in which the rails of the same should be laid, in accordance with the provisions of the act of incorporation of said road. They fix and determine the same as follows: Upon the highway from the Dillon road to Narragansett avenue, on the southerly side thereof, also, on the southerly side of the highway of Caswell street to Beach street, and from Mathewson street to the steamboat wharf at South Pier. On Narragansett avenue said road will be laid on the southerly side, and on Caswell and Mathewson streets on the westerly sides The road is expected to be in running order on or before the 15th day of July next.

South Kingstown.

Messrs. Wm. C. Clarke, John Rodman and Edward Rodman, of Wakefield, caught seventy tautaug, last Tuesday, with the hook and line, from off one of the fishing rocks on Point Judith.

Joseph H. Brown, of Peace Dale, lost his pocketbook, last Tuesday, containing $80 and two notes for about the same amount and he was fortunate enough to find it with all its contents intact.

The summer guests have commenced to arrive, and everything bids fair for a prosperous season with the hotel proprietors. The weather has been very warm for the last three days.

The new church at Peace Dale, which was expected to be ready for dedication on the first of this month, will not be ready until the 24th of July, at which time the dedication will probably take place.

Items.

The Shiverute Indians are now on the war path.

The Michigan Republicans will nominate a State ticket at Lansing, on Wednesday, July 31.

The decline in the price of Erie railway shares has caused the failure in London of several dealers in that stock.

Vessels from the West India Islands, Mexico, and Central and South American ports, after July 1, will be quarantined at New Orleans.

Last week Governor Carpenter of Iowa deposited with the State treasurer $101,376, being the last installment due from the general government on war and defence claims.

The Tallapoosa will sail from Washington today on her trial trip. She will stop at Annapolis and receive on board the class of cadet engineers about fifteen in number, for their practice cruise.

The announcement in Japan that the American government intends to ask that the whole country, or at least the tea district, be thrown open to foreigners, has met with approval in that country.

Political.

James M. Scovil, who constitutes the Greeley party of New Jersey, has issued his call for a sixth convention of himself.

Little Delaware is filled with the spirit of Bak-Bohn, and swears he will vote for a true blue democrat, if she has to put up with the ghost of General Jackson.

The Hillsboro, New Hampshire, Democrat says the problem of "how a man who has a single drop of democratic blood in his veins can vote for Greeley," is difficult of solution.

The Louisville, Kentucky, Jeffersonian Democrat says: We can not hide from view that the indorsement of the Greeley ticket at Baltimore means the final abandonment of the democratic organization.

After the adjournment of the Indiana democrat State convention, Voorhees regretfully exclaimed that no ticket could ever be elected in Indiana in the face of shameless prostitution of all principle and decency as had been witnessed there that day.

The Wheeling (West Virginia) Register (democratic) asserts that the whole number of delegates present at the recent West Virginia Liberal Republican "State" Convention was ten, all from three counties in the State, but probably not as many more liberal republicans. The Register says, however, that the convention was three times as large as the national Chase convention at Parkersburg, and nearly twice as large as the Greeley ratification meeting at Charleston.

The Mobile Register again bitterly denounces the democrats who advise going over to Greeley. It says: "The South has been waiting and longing and piping for years for the very golden opportunity that now offers, and at the very moment that the prize of victory is within its clutch, it loses both head and, heart, turns its back on duty and honor and triumph, and stampedes, a cowardly and panic stricken crowd, to beg for mercy under the coat-tail of its most diabolical enemy, Horace Greeley."

The Cincinnati Commercial puts the statement of a man who has heard of four Greeley Republicans, under the head of "Cheering Information."

What the Weak Need.

Why do the debilitated and feeble dread the summer? It is because heat is an exhausting element, and they are not in a condition to bear the new drain upon their languid systems, which they think must necessarily commence with the warm weather. But cannot this evil be obviated? Most indubitably it can. What these weaklings need—in fact, what nine-tenths of us need at this season—is an accession of physical vigor, and this desideratum can be secured, with absolute certainty, by a course of the mightiest, yet mildest, of all vegetable tonics, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Thousands of men of business, mechanics and professional men, bronic down, partially or wholly, under their summer labors, simply because they have neglected to reinforce the powers of nature in this way. To persons who use the celebrated invigorant and corrective regularly in hot weather, the exhaustion which excessive heat is apt to produce under other circumstances is unknown. They are not troubled with nausea, their appetites are good, their digestion excellent and their habit of body all that can be desired. This for twenty years has been the uniform testimony of all who have taken the Bitters as a summer tonic and alterative. Its efficacy is due to the care and scrupulous fidelity to the teachings of experimental science, with which the medicinal ingredients have been culled from the vegetable kingdom, the admirable proportions in which they are combined and the unequalled purity of its stimulative basis.

leaves; but now I wore last summer's ancient affair, and took off my empire headdress, rings and watch; for I had a part to perform that afternoon.

I met Miss Melbourne in the drawing-room, radiant with a fresh coat of paint and a rich Indian shawl wrapped about her. My conscience smote me.

"Why do you wear that shawl, madame?" I asked. "You may soil it."

"She is rich enough to get another," he whispered, as Miss Melbourne took a parting survey of herself in the mirror "and if you say anything else like that you'll explode the whole concern."

"You don't look near so pretty in that hat," said Miss Melbourne to me, drawing on her lavender kids.

"I don't care," I said, "if Frank don't. I was afraid if we lingered till nightfall, the dampness might take the stiffening out of the other."

What a lie! but it was necessary to our plan.

So we crossed the fields and came in sight of the river. Miss Melbourne and Uncle Wayland ahead; we culprets bringing up the rear, several paces behind.

"Kate," said my companion, "you can fib it with the most innocent look of any one I ever saw. See Miss Melbourne's silk and that pattern hat. How is your courage now, good?"

"My courage is all right, but it is kind of too bad, isn't it?" and I looked rather wavering up to his face.

"Now, Kate," said he, gravely, "we've planned and must execute. We both hate her—she hates us. If we can hurry her back to Maple Hall, let's do it. Once place her in such a ridiculous light before Mr. Wayland, and his love will go down to zero, if not lower."

"Well," I assented, "go ahead. I'll be prepared."

We were now at the boat. Miss Melbourne was handed in and seated, and I sat down rather demurely by her side. Frank and uncle were using all their strength to push off. Soon we glided down stream, sailing till the west was crimson-tinted by the setting sun.

Miss Melbourne hinted at return, as already the early dew began to tell on her bonnet strings; and so we turned about.

We now were within a half mile of the landing. The wind seemed suddenly to get fresh and flap our sails, which was very propitious for our plan.

Nearer and nearer we came to the shore, and I know the moment was fast approaching by the stern look that settled on Frank's face. Another flaw of wind, a mismanagement of the sail, only known to Frank, and over went the boat?

A scream from Miss Melbourne, and she was splashing in the water! I was an expert swimmer, and grasped Miss Melbourne about the waist with one hand, while Frank righted the boat and clambered in. Uncle came up on Miss Melbourne's other side. His sole anxiety was for her, knowing I was a perfect duck in water.

Frank grabbed Miss Melbourne first by the waterfall, but alas! her one hundred and ten avoirdupois could not be held by a dozen hair pins; and there Frank stood in the boat, with a waterfall in his hand, minus a head! Quick as thought he threw it overboard and grabbed Miss Melbourne's front hair. Alas! off that came, and Frank, standing in the boat, looking like an Indian chief fresh from a scalping expedition and Miss Melbourne, looking like anything but a water sprite, threw her head back on the bosom of uncle's white vest, which was already pink with the fast disappearing bloom of Miss Melbourne's cheeks, and fainted.

Her mouth opened, and Frank, in his frantic endeavors to save her, somehow or other got his finger into her mouth and extracted both sets of teeth, and Miss Melbourne being incapable longer of suction, the plumpers rolled out on uncle's breast.

I guess the last spark of uncle's love went out with the plumpers, for he actually smiled and said:

"Frank if you can find a place that will hold, pull her in."

"Better let her drop!" ventured the saucy Frank, pausing a moment, at if for consent, and then took her in his arms and laid her in the boat's bottom.

Uncle and I went in in a jiffy, with a helping hand from Frank. There lay Miss Melbourne shorn of her glory; and I was just thinking I would tell uncle about the other artificial article, some time, when Frank exclaimed:

"For heaven's sake, what's that?"

There was Miss Melbourne's artificial leg, lying two feet away from her, on the bottom of the boat and under uncle's feet! In the rush it became unfastened!

"I'll run home and bring down a bushel basket to convey her in," said the cruel Frank. "I guess there are about two pecks of her when we come to gather up the fragments"

We landed before Miss Melbourne came to herself. Uncle had gone for the carriage. I guess he didn't care to be present when she revived.

She partly opened her eyes, saying;

"Where am I?"

"Calm yourself, dear madam," said Frank, soothingly. "A part of you is here—a part drowned, and—"

But she heard no more, for clapping her hand on her head, and gnashing her gums, she collapsed again.

Uncle came in a few moments, and we entered the carriage and were driven rapidly homeward.

She revived coming up the avenue; but "phaney her pheelinks" as Uncle lifted her to the house to see Frank coming along with the leg on his scoulder, and saying, gallantly:

"I am so sorry, my dear madam, this accident occurred. That flaw of wind took me unawares. But, thank heaven, you are safe."

It is needless to add, Miss Melbourne departed, as soon as recuperated energies came, and refused to see uncle at all, for which he was heartily glad; and I don't think he has scarcely looked at a woman since.

A few days afterwards, Frank came in and threw something into my lap. I took it up thinking it some pretty shell, and lo! it was a glass eye!

"Where did this come from?" I exclaimed, dropping it.

"Why, I was bailing out the boat, and found this in the bottom. I guess she feigned fainting to hide the hole this filled," said he, placing it among the shells on the whatnot.

"As a work of art I admire that woman;" after a pause, he added, "but as one of nature's own beauties, I admire my dear Kate."

Christmas came and a wedding. We would have been married before, but I waited for a husband with a moustache. It had got back to its old proportions, and I had the felicity of hearing Cousin Madeline say:

"O, isn't he handsome?"

ENDORSEMENT OF THE TURKISH BATH.—Meeting a physician the other day, he remarked that he was going up to Dr. D.'s to take a Turkish bath. Said he, "I have been in the practice of medicine over twenty years, and believe if people would take a Turkish bath once a week, they would have but little use for doctors. They would be enabled to breathe all over." Such is the endorsement of a physician of communicability. Dr. Dow's baths are at No. 210 Benefit street, Providence. je22 m&j

Loveliness on the Increase.—A marked increase of female loveliness is the eye-delighting result of the immense popularity which HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM has obtained among the ladies of America. Complexions radiant with snowy purity and tinged with the roseate hue of health are commonly met with wherever it is used. For the sallow and unwholesome appearance of the face and neck, which utterly counterbalances the effect of any personal attraction the owner may possess, it substitutes that clear, pearl-like complexion which is such a transcendent charm in woman, and renders the roughest skin as soft as Genoa velvet. No one is more astonished than the person using it at the marvelous transformation which it effects in these particulars. n&j

AND MATTING.

The subscriber has received, and offers for sale, a fresh stock of Carpets in good variety.

Having been fortunate in buying before the recent rise in price, he is able and willing to sell at as low prices as can be found in the lowest markets

The high price and scarcity of wool makes it probable that prices will advance with the season, and he therefore recommends all needing Carpets this year to buy early, for they will certainly be no lower in price, and most probably will be higher.

Carpets made and laid at fair prices.

All wanting Carpets, are invited to inspect the stock, which will be freely shown, leaving them free to purchase or not as they may decide.

The Celebrated Quaker Bitters—A Great Spring Medicine.

Why do many people in the Spring of the year feel weary, weak, languor of body and mind, which if not removed, often results in dangerous maladies, a morbid sensation, &c.

It is because nature at this season of the year is undergoing a great change. She commences to germinate, to generate, to propagate, to build, to renovate; this great law is palpable in all the animal creation, hence the necessity of a counter action.

The Aged are more susceptible of nature's changes than the young, because the power of repelling disease is not so great, consequently requiring more vigilance.

Those past the meridian of life, at all seasons of the year, are greatly benefitted by taking a few bottles of the Quaker Bitters. It produces new life, energy, and consequently happiness.

TELEGRAMS.

The Boston Jubilee.

THE FIFTH DAY.

BOSTON, June 21.

The audience this afternoon was fully equal in numbers and enthusiasm to that of yesterday.

The Austrian national hymn, words by Holmes and music by Keller, was the first number executed by the chorus, orchestra organ, and bands, and it was admirably given.

As the day was dedicated to Austria, the Grand Kaiser overture was performed by the orchestra, under Mr. Gilmore's direction and created great enthusiasm.

The grand chorus, from "Judas Maccabeus," followed in fine style under Zarrahn's baton, and was duly recognized by the audience.

Madame Peschka-Leutner again aroused the plaudits of the vast audience, by her superb execution and volume of tone, in the cavatina from the first act of Ernani, excelling even her previous essays, that have met with such favor. In response to the encore, she gave Abt's beautiful "Good Night, my Dearest Child," under that gentleman's directions. This was received with marked pleasure, and it was not without many acknowledgments that the lady was allowed to leave the platform.

Mr. Arbuckle then performed the seventh cornet aria of De Beriot. That was encored to the echo, and he responded with his entrancing rendition of "The Last Rose of Summer."

The concert waltz, Suntzler Loben, was set down in the programme for Strauss, but he repeated in its stead his beautiful Blue Danube, which has been the favorite, and on the encore again gave his Pizzicato polka which set the entire audience dancing in their seats, as the great leader danced his time upon the platform.

But the popular feature of the day, as yesterday, was the performance of the military band, this time that of the English Grenadier guards, who, under Godfrey, gave an overture to Semiramide and reminiscences of Meyerbeer, with solos by Llawford, Ellis and Spencer. The effect upon the vast chorus and audience being electrical. The band appeared without their bearskins, 92° in the shade being too high a temperature for mere outward display. Their music was full compensation for the omission of dress.

Another chorus circular was issued today giving the general features of next week's programme. The success of the past three days has led the executive committee to decide upon another choral week with the most brilliant features of the present, including the military bands, vocal celebrities and the inimitable Strauss, some of the dead wood, including the piano music, being thrown out. All the societies are invited to continue their services and bring in their auxiliaries.

Mr. Tourjee promises the greatest week of choral effects yet experienced. The prices are to be reduced for the sacred concert on Sunday, and subsequently to three and two dollars, according to the location of seat.

The British and German and British and French bands fraternize, but between the German and French the feeling appears to be that of polite civility merely when they meet.

The French band has volunteered to play for the Latin and High schools regiment, which drills on the Common tomorrow. This is in return for the escort tendered on the band's arrival in Boston.

Before the close of the festival, each foreign band will be assigned a day to select and play its own programme, and prominent New York bands will also appear. Mr. Gilmore will reserve his own band for a final performance, when it will be increased to sixty pieces, in brilliant uniform.

President Grant is expected early in the week, which will probably prove the popular season.

DISASTER AT COLUMBUS, OHIO.

NEW YORK, June 21.

A Columbus, Ohio despatch says a large boiler in the Ohio Brush and Wire Works exploded this morning, killing and wounding between thirty-five and seventy-five of the prisoners at work in the factory, and destroying the building. Twenty-five persons, it is reported, were killed instantly.

NOTICE.

THE UNDERSIGNED being authorized to build or cause to be built a wharf for the JAMESTOWN & NEWPORT STEAM FERRY ASSOCIATION and the east side of said town, south of William H. Knowles' wharf, commencing on land to be deeded to said Association, and running east about one hundred feet to the depth of forty feet at low tide; the walls to be fifty-five feet apart from outside to outside of said walls with a heading from the south wall north thirty feet; thence running in a southeasterly course about one hundred feet, the walls to be twenty-five feet apart from outside to outside of said walls. The walls are to commence three feet above high water mark perpendicular on the land running first hundred feet from three feet to five feet wide on the bottom and two to three feet on top of the wall. The second hundred or thereabouts to be laid eight feet on the bottom and three feet on top of the wall when finished. The head and south side of said wharf to be tied with ties and furnished with ties by the Committee and put in as by them directed, the work in all to be done in good workmanlike manner. Builders are to procure all stone for the walls and the walls are gradually to rise from the shore three feet to five feet at the terminus above high water mark at the head of said wharf. The Committee propose the walls to be built at so much per square yard; and also the filling in between the walls will be let per square yard; there is about 2600 yards filling and 1200 i Walls. The Committee are willing to direct where the materials can be had for filling and for stone for wall, or any other information in regard to plans or specifications can be had by conferring with the Committee.
Proposals can be made until June 26th, 1872.
The payments will be made in three instalments as the work progresses; responsible parties are required.
N. B.—The work to be completed by October 1st, 1872.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of many years, having within that time treated over nine thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.
To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my most matured appreciation of its value, based upon actual and witnessed realities. As a close observer, I have while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will at all times and under all circumstances act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who employs it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on the return of the bottle, two thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions. But having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures as if by magic and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, and very many other chronic diseases peculiar to woman not mentioned here, in which, as well as in the cases which I have mentioned, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a single one of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm in any state or condition. It is a most Powerful Restorative, Tonic to the general as well as the sexual system, also combining the most valuable nervine properties. Both the muscular and nervous forces are strengthened and built up by its use. It will be found invaluable in diseases incident to pregnancy, and can be taken in moderate doses with perfect safety while in that state. Indeed, it is a Mother's Cordial, and so prepares the system for parturition that it renders child-labor easy. I have received the heartfelt praise from hundreds of mothers for the inestimable benefits thus conferred.
I offer my Favorite Prescription to the Ladies of America with the sincerity of an honest heart, and for their best welfare. Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in my TREATISE ON CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE GENERATIVE AND URINARY ORGANS, sent secure from observation upon receipt of two postage stamps. It treats minutely on those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to their management.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS

Killing for Fashion.

Exposing the arms and legs of children for the sake of fashion, seems to us to be so much opposed to common sense that we wonder it is ever done, and yet daily we see children shivering with cold and exposed to chills because their mothers are slaves to a silly fashion. A very distinguished Paris physician says: "I believe that, during the twenty years that I have practised my profession, twenty thousand children have been carried to the cemeteries, a sacrifice to the absurd custom of exposing their arms. Put the bulb of a thermometer into a baby's mouth and the mercury rises to ninety degrees. Now carry the same to its little hand; if the arm be bare and even cool, the mercury will sink to fifty degrees. Of course, all the blood that flows through these arms falls from ten to forty degrees below the temperature of the heart. Need I say, when these currents of the blood flow back to the chest, the child's vitality must be more or less compromised? And need I add that we ought not to be surprised at the frequently recurring affections of the tongue, throat, or stomach! I have seen more that one child with habitual cough or hoarseness entirely relieved by simply keeping the hands and arms warm."

Nursing an Appetite.

The Boston Daily News says, a smart, fine looking, and richly dressed young lady sat down at the table of one of the best eating houses the other day and called for pie and ale! and drank off the latter with apparent relish. How many such women there are preparing to become drunkards God only knows. How is the whole character, we might say the nature, of woman changed when she has become the victim of intemperance! That fair, cheerful, smiling and lovely face is bloated, blotched and inflamed. That speaking index, which once told of innocence and peace, now tells of the ruin that has been wrought within. Her face is a visible sign off the distress and confusion that pervades all the secret chambers of her soul. The tongue which once gave pleasure to the wide circle of her youthful companions, has now lost its wonted motion, and only interrupts the silence with words which might better have been locked up in the poisoned bosom whence they come. Such is the case with all of womankind who have experienced the effects of intemperance on their own persons.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY

MILLIONS Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

J. WALKER, Proprietor. R. H. McDONALD & Co., Druggists & Gen. Agents, San Francisco, Cal., and 34 Commerce street, N. Y.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

They are not a vile Fancy Drink, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No System of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

JURUBEBA,

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER!

Is a Powerful Tonic, especially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

Dr. Well's Extract of Jurubeba

Is strengthening and nourishing; like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and, by its powerful Tonic and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action of the whole system.

"PATENT PAPERED WOOD HANGINGS."

Parties Decorating their Walls and Ceilings should carefully examine the merits of the WOOD HANGINGS and not accept the unfavorable reports of interested parties. Instead of throwing away your white doors or having them grained or putting in solid hard wood, you can have them covered with Wood Hangings, putting in solid mouldings, saving a great expense.

Office of JAMES Y. SMITH & NICHOLS,
No. 56 Westminster Street,
Providence, R. I., April 20, 1870.

CHARLES W. SPURR, Esq., 45 Summer St., Boston.

DEAR SIR:—Our Union Bank decorated their banking rooms with your Wood Hangings two years ago, which has been much admired. The work stands well, no showing of its giving out in any way. Hope you are successful in introducing the same.

Very truly,
JAMES Y. SMITH, President.

ERIE RAILWAY, JOHN S. DUNLAP, N. England Agent,
124 Washington Street, Boston, June 24, 1870.

CHARLES W. SPURR, Esq.,

DEAR SIR:—I have your favor of the 1st, referring to your Wood Hangings. About a year since I had it used in the dining room and halls of my house, and to date I am perfectly satisfied with it in every particular.

Very truly,
JOHN S. DUNLAP.

SELWYN'S THEATRE, MANAGER'S OFFICE,
Boston, May 8th, 1870.

CHAS. W. SPURR,

SIR:—I wish to say that your Wood Hangings have been on the walls of the Vestibule of this Theatre since August, 1868, and have proved entirely satisfactory. As the walls were plastered, and the Vestibule very much exposed to the varied changes of the weather, there were serious doubts of the permanency of this style of decoration, but those doubts have been entirely removed. And the truth of this is manifest to the many who come to see and judge for themselves, and who admire its beauty and novelty exceedingly.

I remain yours truly,
JOHN H. SELWYN.

TRANSCRIPT OFFICE, Boston, May 10, 1870.
CHAS. W. SPURR, ESQ.,

DEAR SIR:—The Wood Hangings you put upon my house, No. 14 Montgomery street, has stood the test of two years' use, to the entire satisfaction of the family. It is as firm on the wall as the day you left it. The heat or moisture has not caused the wood to peel in a single spot, and I see no reason why it will not remain so for years. I can cheerfully recommend its use to all, in preference to paper in a dining room.

Respectfully and truly yours,
H. W. DUTTON.

BOSTON, Dec. 24, 1870.

It is with the greatest pleasure we acknowledge the solid and elegant effect produced by your PATENT PAPERED WOOD HANGINGS in the halls, dining rooms, and vestibules of the "St. Cloud Hotel." In the construction of this building, we have, as trustees, studied the most rigid economy consistent with durability; and it being within our own knowledge, that, for the past three years your Woods had remained wholly unaffected by steam, furnace heat, and dampness, we had no hesitation in using them almost exclusively in the interior decoration. We heartily congratulate you upon the success with which you are meeting.

Very truly. GEORGE B. BIGELOW,
For Trustees of Huffinton Estate.

BOSTON, Nov. 15, 1870.

Since the first introduction of your "PATENT PAPERED WOOD HANGINGS," we have had you apply over six thousand (6,000) feet of Dadoe in Black Walnut, White Wood, Butternut and Oak. We have also used your Cedar and White Wood Hangings for Closets, Pantries, and Bath Rooms. Your work has proved to be unaffected by dampness, steam or furnace heat, and while the cost is far below solid wood, you are enabled to give us the choicest varieties. The work you have just finished for us exceeds in elegance of woods and workmanship, all your other efforts. Accept our congratulations in your present success, which must rapidly increase with a general appreciation of the elegance and durability of this mode of decoration.

Yours very truly, &c.,
BOURN & LEAVITT,
146 Mt. Vernon St., Boston
